Port Macquarie Hastings Council Live and Local Program curator, Lisa Willows encourages both musicians and venues to get involved.

“This is a great opportunity businesses and venues who perhaps haven’t hosted live music before to get involved and broaden their scope of prospects.”

“New legislation announced now makes it super easy for all types of business to host live music. If you are a local musician, we would love to hear from you so we can work together to grow a thriving live music scene,” said Lisa initiative, delivered by Council in partnership with the Live Music Office.
